

It's a woman with magic powers. She flies on a broomstick and usually wears a black cloak and a pointed hat.

It's a spirit of a dead person. It can haunt the house the dead person used to live in.

It looks like a human but it's a body of a dead person believed to leave its grave at night to drink the blood of the living. It has long pointed canine teeth used to bite people's necks.

It's a mammal with wings. It's very active at night.

It's a nocturnal bird with large eyes. It hunts small mammals, insects and other birds.

This is a person who changes into a wolf when there is a full moon.

It's a creature with a strange or frightening appearance.

This is a creature from another world.

It's a mischievous, ugly, dwarf-like creature. It plays tricks on people.

All the bones of a body form this.

It is usually an object made out of sticks and old clothes, used to scare birds away from crops.

It's a small but quite scary animal which makes webs for trapping insects.

This is a small woman-like creature with magical powers. She can put magic spells on people.