

Phrases and definitions

go window shopping	when you look at things in shop windows, but you do not intend to buy anything look for a bargain	when you try to find something at a much lower price afford something	when you have enough money to buy something get a discount	when you are offered to buy something at a lower price get a refund	when you are given the money back because you are not happy with the product you have bought fit well	when the item you are about to buy is the right size or shape make a complaint	you do that when you are not happy with the product you have bought be under guarantee/warranty	it is when the thing you have bought may be replaced or repaired if it gets broken jump the queue	you do that when you go in front of other people who are standing in a line and waiting for something try something on	when you put on a piece of clothing to see if it fits you or you like it