Hi, Lisa,

How are you? Sorry, I haven't written so far, but it's been a busy week here in Scotland.

Last weekend we 1) some time in Edinburgh, the capital city. It's 2) than Glasgow, but there 3) a lot of places to see so you can't get bored quickly. Yesterday, while we were visiting the Edinburgh castle, we 4) a wedding ceremony. The bride had a long white dress, like everywhere in Europe, but the groom 5) wearing a black kilt instead of trousers.

The weather is OK. It's not as 6) as in Poland now, but it's not raining. Today, we're 7) some shopping. I'm thinking of buying a warm woollen tartan scarf for my dad. We're also going to a tea room for lunch. Eating a scone or two would be a good idea.

Next week, we're going to 8) Loch Ness. I can't wait to take pictures of the legendary Scottish lake. Do you think we 9) Nessie the Beast? I wish you were here with us. 10) you soon.

Love,

Keira
